John E. Tiedeman, publisher and editor of the Morgan Hill Times, received a beating at the hands of an irate subscriber who, seeking to be an "ex" subscriber, became insanely mad at a letter which invited him to pay up his back subscription in order that the desired condition be attained.

The root and reason for the bodily harm done Mr. Tiedeman, however, seems to rest in an editorial written by that gentleman in which he took to task a group of town loafers who evidently viewed with distaste the possibility of jobs on a piece of nearby construction work. Now we believe that the unfortunate editor is too smart to mention names in an editorial of that kind, so we will presume that the man who stopped his paper, insisted that the editor insulted his wife (no evidence to that effect), and finally attacked the publisher himself, considered the situation and decided that the shoe fit—whereupon he donned it and immediately was overcome by unreasonable wrath. He apparently went to some pains to pick a quarrel which enabled him to strike Mr. Tiedeman who, by the way, is no longer a young man.

The good publisher has signified his intention of suing the pants off his assailant, and we hope, for the good of order that he makes good. For he is one of the few newspaper men in the entire valley with intestinal fortitude sufficient to keep him "off the fence" and squarely behind whatever cause his reason prompts him to champion.

Newspapers of the land are full of stupid editorials. Bellywash containing not one jot of good criticism, constructive or otherwise. The one-time moulders of public opinion have, for the most part, become as the timid squirrel—actually afraid of the public opinion they formerly fought with, hand to hand, over the cases. The same with news: more stories are hushed up nowadays than the average reader imagines. Yep, things are going to the dogs in the newspaper business, and when we run across an old-timer who is still carrying on we refresh our weakening spirit in his, and take new heart.

People—you readers—make the news; we print it. By the same token, you give us our editorial material. And when the window drops harshly on somebody's toe, remember that the editor did not create the situation that brought forth the Websterian barrage, and that his opinion is, usually, that of the majority. Don't cuss or abuse the editor. He is, at least, doing the best he can.

Conditions at the county hoosegow took another rap Sunday when the Rev. D. W. Throckmorton, in a sermon delivered at the Santa Clara Federated church, referred to the jail as a "medieval institution such as I did not know could exist." And he bitterly took taxpayers to task for their seeming indifference to a situation which is indeed foul beyond description.

The Santa Clara county jail, or "can," as it is aptly termed by its unfortunate inhabitants, is dirty, crowded, unsanitary, and uncomfortable. It provides no seclusion for the first offender, who is of necessity thrown in with the hardened and vicious criminal. A fine way for a novice to be tutored in crime.

Too, the jail is none too secure. Only the luck of the gods has frustrated several recent attempted jail-breaks which, had they been successful, would have loosed upon the community a number of desperate men, charged with murder and anxious to be away, regardless of the cost to themselves or anyone else.

The county supervisors have at last taken it upon themselves to do something about it. They plan to borrow from the Reconstruction money to erect a new jail and to put direfully needed addition onto the county hospital. We trust they will meet with success and they probably will if nobody throws a monkey-wrench into the machinery. And anyone who does that ought to be thrown in the bastle for a 30-day sample of its generous and spacious hospitality.

Two Engagements Are Announced At C.F. Reunion Party

An atmosphere heavy with mystery surrounded the members of the former Ca-che-ca Camp Fire Girl group when they gathered for their annual reunion at the home of Mrs. David Ribble, their former guardian, last Thursday. For invitations had requested gifts of "linen and clay" to two unknown members who promised to divulge important secrets.

In the latter part of the afternoon the hostess, assisted by Miss Elsie Merrill, let a yellow, blue ribboned "cat out of the bag," and ribbons attached to his basket, which was filled with gifts, announced the engagement of Miss Clara Rice to Harry Quirke, and the engagement of Miss Evelyn Voge to William Frederick Canfield.

Miss Rice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rice of Rincon avenue, is a graduate of Campbell grammar and high schools and graduate of the county hospital training school for nurses. She is now a registered nurse and assistant supervisor in the surgery department of the county hospital. Miss Rice has many friends in Campbell and in the Rebekah lodge of which she is a member, and they are all felicitating her on her happiness. Mr. Quirke is the son of Mrs. Charlotte Quirke, San Jose, and is a golf professional. He is a graduate of San Jose high school and a member of Kappa Alpha Pi social fraternity. The wedding will be an event of the fall.

Miss Voge, daughter of Mrs. Lilian R. Voge, is a graduate in journalism of the University of Wisconsin, and of San Jose State Teachers college, and a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Kappa Delta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi national sororities. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Canfield of Sparta, Wis., graduated from the University of Wisconsin and is at present assistant manager of the Wisconsin Press association. He belongs to Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Delta Chi, and Phi Eta Sigma fraternities. The couple will be married in the middle of August.

After a pleasant afternoon at the Ribble home, the Camp Fire Girl alumnae enjoyed a buffet supper served by Mrs. Ribble and her mother, Mrs. Edith Turner, which included such tasty dishes as chicken croquettes and fresh strawberry cream puffs.

Present at the reunion were Mrs. Ribble, Mrs. Turner, and the Misses Elsie Merrill, Helen Stray, Ruth Townsend, Mary Maxon, Clara Rice, Annette Merrill, Miriam Blaine, Ruth Newton, and Evelyn Voge.

Entertainment

A "New-fashioned Cake Walk" will be presented by Group 1 of the Congregational women's guild when they entertain the ladies of the church at a house and lawn party at the home of Mrs. E. P. Green on Page street. Another feature of the program is a talk by Mrs. W. E. Eckles on phases of women's work, which all members of the guild will find very interesting. Guild reports will precede the program.

George E. Hyde Taken by Death Here Last Night

George Edwin Hyde, veteran fruit packer of this community, passed away last night at his home on Alice avenue. He was 78 years of age, and had been in poor health for the past several years.

Mr. Hyde was born at Benicia, Calif., Jan. 1, 1855, the son of Henry Hyde of Waltham, Mass., who was an early California settler. George Hyde went to Waltham at the age of 11, there learning the machinists' trade. He returned to California 11 years later for his health.

Here he settled on a ranch, and married Alice L. Hill when he was 24. He had large prune holdings, and 25 years ago established a cannery with R. H. Thomas, and through the ensuing years developed it into one of the largest plants in the valley.

Mr. Hyde was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of Charity lodge. He was the founder of the Commercial club in San Jose, and represented Santa Clara county at the St. Louis Pan-American exposition in 1901.

Deceased is survived by his widow, Alice L. Hyde, a brother, Warren E. Hyde, Cupertino, and a sister, Ida A. Hyde of San Francisco, and three sons, Otis E. Hyde and Ralph H. Hyde of Campbell, and Dr. C. E. Hyde of San Francisco.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 11 o'clock from the Roger Darling chapel in San Jose. Charity Lodge, F. & A. M., and the Rev. J. H. Bennett, will conduct the service, at which Stephen Merrill will be soloist. Interment will take place at Madrona cemetery, Saratoga.

Pauper Bill Is Approved And Signed by Governor

Sacramento, June 28 — Santa Clara county may be required to pay indigents whether or not it is wished under Senate bill 463, introduced by John L. Moran of Glenn, Tehama, and Colusa counties, and signed by Governor Rolph.

In case Santa Clara county refuses to pay the indigents, they may file an appeal with the state department of social welfare, signed by five reputable citizens and if the case is decided in their favor, the state department may instruct the county to pay them.

With Drew

Miss Helen Lumb, who in the past has been identified with the office force of the J. C. Ainsley Packing company, has been engaged by the Drew Canning company, leasers of the Ainsley plant. Several of the plant men including Archie Brydon and Julius Bachman, will remain on the job also.

Pet Dies

Walter Prout reports the death of his dog. The dog had been fed ground glass, according to Prout, who said the animal suffered horribly. He believes a wholesale slaughter of dogs may be planned, as he knows of other animals which have met a like fate recently.

Campbell, Long Dry Spot, Goes Wet In Tuesday's Election

Forsaking its tradition for being the arid spot in Santa Clara county, Campbell went "wet" in Tuesday's election almost two to one, with 336 persons voting for repeal and 209 voting against it. Of the three Campbell precincts No. 3, representing the north side of town, stuck most closely to tradition, with 95 persons favoring repeal and 86 opposing it. Most overwhelmingly wet was Precinct No. 1, voting at Morton's garage and representing the outlying districts of the town, which voted 137 for repeal and 54 against. Precinct No. 2, voting at the Odd Fellows' hall, totaled 104 persons for repeal and 69 opposing it.

The dries put up a stiff fight in Campbell, however, compared to their battles in other Santa Clara county communities, for the whole county went wet overwhelmingly, three to one.

In the ten propositions for state amendments Campbell voted much as did the rest of Santa Clara county, voting down proposition No. 4, exempting private schools from taxation, No. 6, for irrigation district bonds, and Nos. 9 and 10, for the diversion of gas taxes.

Most heavily opposed in Campbell was proposition No. 4, will 441 voting against it, as compared to 102 favoring it. Early returns from the county were only about five opposed to three in favor. Proposition No. 6 was voted 289 against and 178 for, a percentage much the same as in the entire county.

The gas tax diversion proposals were voted down, 350 to 145 on No. 9, and 351 to 134 on No. 10. County votes showed a similar trend, with about a three to one opposition vote recorded early this morning.

The Riley tax plan to revise the state taxation system received a good majority in Campbell, with a vote of Yes, 297, and No, 181. County precincts favored the plan by a two to one vote.

The proposal for the issuance of $20,000,000 in relief bonds for unemployment carried Campbell, with a vote of Yes, 304, and No, 186, as it carried the county, with about a two to one vote reported this morning.

Lukewarm approval carried Proposition No. 3, on horse race betting, which received 275 votes for and 250 against in Campbell. Voters in Precinct No. 3, voting at the Campbell hotel, opposed this measure, 96 against and 79 for, while the other two precincts favored it. Santa Clara county voted quite overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal, with over a two to one vote.

Proposition No. 5, for earthquake damage assessment, was voted, Yes 247, No 220 in Campbell. It was similarly voted in the county. The law dates proposal carried 277 Yes, and 141 No, in Campbell, and carried in the county about two to one.

The county home government measure, No. 8, received a fair lead in Campbell, 242 Yes and 216 No, and by early morning results was apparently carrying the county about 7 to 6.

THE FARMERS CORNER

By Ralph H. Taylor

"What will the 1933 harvest be—in dollars and cents?"

On the great majority of California's 136,000 farms and ranches, that, without doubt, is the foremost question of the hour.

And the answer, if present trends mean anything, need not be a gloomy one.

Even though it would be manifestly foolhardy to attempt a close approximation of the return which California's huge crop tonnage will bring in the world's markets this season, there is, at least, a healthy possibility that it will be considerably ahead of last year's returns.

According to developments which have come, in recent weeks, in the wake of inflation, there appears to be a strong prospect that the state's total agricultural income will be up some 15 per cent over the 1932 level. It might even go materially higher, although present conditions are too uncertain to warrant such a forecast.

But while looking on the cheerful side of the picture, there is still no sense in falling into the delusion that everything is on the "up and up" in the farming industry. Agriculture has a long climb back and it will take sustained improvements—better price levels, far less unemployment and a great deal more confidence on the part of business and the general public—to bring many farm ledgers out of the red.

The report of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics for the month just ended gives the brightest ray of hope for better days that has come in more than three years.

The general index of farm prices, according to the federal department, advanced 17 per cent over the preceding month—the largest gain recorded for any month since 1919.

Wool made the most spectacular advance for a single commodity, advancing 42 points or 75 per cent. Grains led in the general groups, gaining 15 points. Meat animal prices were up 8 points, chickens and eggs 6, cotton and cottonseed

In Santa Cruz

Lois Bachman, Olga Brydon, Betty Keesling and Frances Reed spent last week at the Keesling cottage in Santa Cruz.

6, dairy products 4, fruits and vegetables 2.

Farm prices, as a whole, were at the highest point since Jan. 1932.

Such a business upturn on the farm, if it can be maintained, will inevitably bring a resultant increase in city business done by farmers. Already, in some instances, California farmers are planning to replace old equipment with new. And as the line between profit and loss on the farm is a very narrow one, even a moderate improvement, if it remains permanent, will save many farmers from foreclosures, again releasing money in urban channels.

California farmers, accustomed to the pranks of the weather, which sometimes upsets their best calculations, will probably face the future with a reasonable amount of caution, knowing full well that business fluctuations, during a depression, are as hard to gauge as the elements.

But farmers can do their part to make the improvement permanent by taking every precaution to hold their markets. There should be careful safeguarding against the natural temptation to send cheap products on the market for quick profit-taking. That is the surest way to destroy public confidence. And confidence, probably more than any other one factor, is the need today to make the temporary upturn a permanent step toward better days.

Sta. Clara American Legion Arranging July 4th Program

Santa Clara, June 28—A gala day, such as has not been seen here in many a year, is in store for Santa Clara valley folk on the Fourth of July, according to members of the local post of the American Legion, which is sponsoring the celebration. The legionnaires expect to draw an immense crowd to attend the dance and witness the hose race, parade, and field events that will be on the program.

Preliminary festivities will include the Goddess of Liberty ball that will take place on the evening of July 3 in the S.E.S. hall.

A 21-bomb salute in the morning will start the celebration on the national holiday. At 10 a. m. the fire companies of the Santa Clara fire department will compete in a hose race at the corner of Washington and Franklin streets.

At 1:30 p. m. the parade will form in the neighborhood of Market and Jackson streets, marching over Market, Lincoln and Franklin streets and Campbell avenue to Mission field, athletic grounds of the University of Santa Clara. The parade list is now being completed and its size and color is expected to exceed the expectations of the city.

At the field the paraders will pass in review by army officers and local officials. Rev. James J. Lyons, president of the university, and Mayor Max Kohner will speak words of welcome, while the Independence Day address will be delivered by City Clerk A. J. Cronin.

A program, lasting until 5:30 p. m., will be enjoyed, including gymnastic stunts by the Germania society, jui-jitsu exhibitions by the Japanese association, performances by crack drill and drum corps units and a display of daylight fireworks.

At 9 p. m., a night display of fireworks will take place at the S. E. S. grounds, where a dance will also be arranged for those who wish to enjoy that pleasure to wind up the celebration.

There will be no admission charges for field events. Everybody is welcome.

We find that the lad was not on the highway, but was off the side and in company with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pomeroy when a car driven by Warren Willis of Virginia avenue careened off the road, and in its journey back onto the road, struck down the lad with resultant serious injuries. Improvement of the patient is being steadily noted.

State General Fund Facing Tax Loss From Utilities, Said

Sacramento, June 28—California general fund revenues from levies on public utilities and insurance companies will be $1,469,116 less this year than in 1932 notwithstanding increases in gross receipts tax rates on gas and electric and telephone companies.

This was revealed by the state board of equalization upon completion of the 1933 tax roll.

Emergency legislation this year raised rates on gas and electric companies 1.5 per cent to 9 per cent and on telephone companies from 5.5 to 5.75 per cent.

Those sponsoring the changes estimated it would boost the revenues from these sources by $3,000,000. The actual increase was $205,105 less than anticipated. Telephone companies contribute $194,635.72 more under the new plan and gas companies $2,601,258.

Public utilities and insurance companies will pay a total tax of $34,799,280 beginning July 1, or more than $1,500,000 less than assessed too the same classes of taxpayers a year ago.

Despite the increase in rates, there will be a loss of 4.05 per cent

No gains were shown in any business subject to taxation for state purposes during the past year, according to the statement prepared by the board of equalization.

"Every type of taxpayer showed a loss in its business from 37.54 per cent for the short steam railroads to 4.61 per cent for gas and electric companies," according to the statement.

Long steam railroads' business was off 26.08 per cent, car companies 17.31 per cent, interurban electric and street railways 15.89 per cent, express companies 13.49 per cent, telephone and telegraph companies 10.09 per cent, and insurance companies 10.57 per cent.
